Instructions to authors

The EJM was founded to reach a large audience on an international scale and also for achieving closer cooperation of European countries in the publication of scientific papers. The founding societies have set themselves the task of publishing a European journal of mineralogy of the highest standard open to all scientists doing mineralogical research in the widest sense of the term all over the world. Contributions will therefore be published primarily in English but articles in French, German and Italian will also be accepted.

The EJM publishes original papers, review articles and short notes on all mineralogical fields like mineralogy, crystallography, petrology, geochemistry, ore deposits, including environmental, applied and technical mineralogy as well as related fields.

EJM Submission

Beginning with 2012 all EJM manuscripts must be submitted through the EJM Manuscript Management System (MMS) to be accessed via the EJM journal website: www.schweizerbart.de/journals/ejm → submit manuscripts online. First-time authors should first register as author and make sure to actively check the „register as author“ box at the very bottom of the registration form. User names and passwords are accepted in lowercase letters only. After registration as author you immediately are free to submit your manuscript online. Please store all manuscript data in one zip- or rar-file not exceeding 20 MB and upload this zip file. During the submission process please choose the relevant chief editor's section to properly submit your results to the chief editor of your choice:

Manuscripts should be prepared in the following way:

Title – running title – Name (s) of author (s) and address (es) of institution (s) – Text statistics – Abstract and Key-words (in English) – Text – References list – Tables – Figures – Table captions and Figure captions.

Please upload your submission files as one single .zip- or .rar-file not exceeding 20 MB.
